Asbury Will Make Worldwide Debut on “The College Tour”

This fall, Asbury University celebrated a campus-wide watch party to celebrate its episode on “The College Tour.” The TV series, created by the award-winning team behind shows like “Survivor” and “The Biggest Loser,” is available on multiple streaming platforms. Asbury is featured in season 3 and is the first university in Kentucky to be featured.

Hosted by Alex Boylan, each episode of “The College Tour” tells the story of a university through the lens of its students, and Asbury’s unique flavor is on full display as Asburians share their stories.

President's Message

Set Apart for God's Work and Purpose

In the early 19th Century, the Mount Holyoke Female Seminary operated like any other school, but its ethos was suffused with Christian peculiarity. In relation to other training schools, they were different. Yet, their Christian distinction was the greater world's benefit. In his book "The Road to Character," David Brooks details Mount Holyoke's belief that a good life was bound up in struggle, not ease or pleasure. Heroism, they taught, was found in the mundane, and students were compelled to a life of service. Implored by their founder, Mary Lyon, to "do what nobody else wants to do [and] go where nobody else wants to go"—it is little wonder that the Seminary regularly deployed students into often dangerous and under-represented mission fields.

To understand someone or something as "set apart" is to recognize difference; some unique feature or attribute that stands out. In the Christian faith tradition, we are not simply set apart from something, we are set apart to something. This is the definition of holiness. To be holy is to be uniquely set apart for God's work and purpose.

Asbury and the wider world of Christian higher education has operated in this unique current of being set apart for advancing God's work. I know Christian bankers who earn as much money as they can so they can give it all away; Christian lawyers who endure years of grueling study so they can represent those who cannot afford legal representation; Christian creatives who do not eschew secular culture, but create alternative cultural movies, shows and books consumed by the masses; Christian nurses who use their time and resources to embrace and serve immigrants in their community; Christian professionals who deliberately move into underserved neighborhoods; and Christian scientists who commit thousands of hours to create health breakthroughs to improve the lives of others.

Whether perceived by the world as big or small, these contributions share one compulsion and commonality: otherness. In his influential book "The Rise of Christianity," sociologist Rodney Stark speaks to the "ultimate factor" in explaining the meteoric growth of early Christianity. "Let me state my thesis," says Stark. "Central doctrines of Christianity prompted and sustained attractive, liberating, and effective social relations and organizations." The creeds and canons of early Christianity were undoubtedly unique. Yet it was the way this doctrine "took on flesh," Stark suggests, that led to Christianity's rise and appeal.

We are in a dynamic moment for higher education. As we move into a post-Covid reality, schools — including Asbury — will have to think very carefully about affordability, innovative programmatic offerings, and endowment expansion to create greater financial independence.

But to be clear, while we should always strive toward elevating the life of the mind, loving our neighbor through sacrificial service, aspiring toward excellence, and unifying all dimensions of the educational experience to be a true university ("unity out of diversity") — this is not simply a strategy, it is an expectation. This is the fullness of what it means to be an institution defined by its commitment to follow Christ. Set apart.

Asbury's Promise: “Belong, Become, be Set Apart”

A renewed vision of education and community for the future

Student Body President Joy Pidgorodetska's summer internship at a high-tech startup revealed to her the importance of her Asbury experience and how it lives up to its promise that students here will “belong, become and be set apart.”

“My summer experience allowed me to see Asbury in a whole new light,” Pidgorodetska '22 said of her work at Lexington-based App Harvest. “I realized that Asbury is such a unique place because of the people, from the administration all the way down to the students. It's a community where people are intentionally seeking out where the Lord's leading them, but doing it through ordinary work — which is amazing. It's throughout our studies, through our spiritual formation. There are so many ways for students to grow personally, spiritually and professionally.”

As an institution, Asbury also is seeking out where the Lord is leading. And, it is asking key existential questions, like “Why are we here?” and “Where are we going?”

“What are we becoming?” asked Asbury President Dr. Kevin Brown at a campus town hall meeting in September. “We're all becoming something.” What that “something” is, said Brown, will determine Asbury's future.

Joy Pidgorodetska '22 spoke to prospective students at Asbury's Fall Preview in October.

A promise to belong, become and be set apart

The response is both an answer and a promise – belong, become and be set apart.

“Belonging, forging lifelong friendships and being woven into the fabric of our community,” said Brown. “Becoming, presenting ourselves as a living sacrifice, holy and pleasing unto God ... and being set apart by how we love one another.”

There are numerous biblical references to being “set apart.” For example, in Romans 8:30, Paul writes, “And so those whom God set apart, He called; and those He called, He put right with Himself, and He shared His glory with them.” The community as a whole, Brown said, should strive to be set apart in “deep thought, effective service and ordered love.”

Pidgorodetska said she feels this mission firsthand.

“To Dr. Brown’s point of belonging and becoming and being set apart, I think that’s really captured in two ways — the spiritual formation aspect; Asbury provides opportunities for me and for students to really intentionally grow in relationship with the Lord and to establish those disciplines in our everyday life that we can carry outside of our time here,” she said. “And the academic courses we’re enrolled in; as a business major, the Dayton School of Business talks about being set apart for the world. You learn the business principals for a future career, but also how to be truly set apart in the work you’ll be doing.”

She said at AppHarvest, a multi-million dollar, publicly traded company, her unique preparation for the workforce did not go unnoticed.

“The Lord has really opened up my eyes to the need for Christian people in secular everyday work experiences and environments,” Pidgorodetska said. “I was able to practice that in my internship this summer, using the things I’ve learned at Asbury and the people skills that I established. That was the ‘in’ for me, practicing those simple things like kindness, going above and beyond, and working with integrity. They allowed me to be set apart and I gained recognition for that. I was staying true to my morals and my relationship with the Lord, and it allowed me many opportunities to share my faith with my coworkers.”

Honors Program

Studies in Virtue & Human Value

Understanding ‘inherent value’ through the honors program

In Wilmore, an all-new undergraduate program is helping students think more deeply about these core Christian beliefs. Freshmen enrolled in the Asbury University Honors Program (AUHP) will have the option of taking classes in a variety of disciplines that are centered around the ideas of dignity, personhood, worth, and the Imago Dei.

The AUHP came to fruition in the 2021-22 school year after significant planning and prayer by multiple faculty members and through the generosity of donors. The program falls under the leadership of Dr. Paul Nesselroade '89, professor of Psychology. The AUHP is centered around a theme of “Studies in Virtue and Human Value,” which is something that all students at Asbury will grapple with during their college tenure.

Nesselroade cited Dr. Dennis Kinlaw '43, former president of Asbury, for the program theme inspiration.

“Dr. Kinlaw, near the end of his life, argued quite persuasively and forcefully that personhood and identity issues are central to what is going on now in culture,” he said, adding that the AUHP will ask questions like “What does it mean to be embodied?” and “What does it mean to possess inherent value?” and it will investigate the legitimacy of appeals to inherent value that lie outside of Christian theology.

AUHP is one of many unique scholarship opportunities available to students, and it fits with Brown’s overarching vision of all Asbury students becoming excellent thinkers and a community that values life.

“This is a function of our personality,” Brown said. “We are a caring, supportive institution; transformative creators and experiential discerners.”

Ultimately, AUHP furthers Asbury’s dedication to the Christian liberal arts to shape and prepare students.

Associate Dean of Spiritual Life Rev. Greg Haseloff cited many on-campus examples of this formation that happens every day. “When we look at the bulk of our campus resources, they all lean into the endeavor of students at Asbury finding that they do belong, and in their belonging here they have the freedom to become more like Christ and to be set apart for His purposes in the world,” he said.

He pointed to things like Fall Revival, with this year’s speaker Dr. Matt Ayars '06 challenging campus to let the Lord form students for His purposes and fill them with the Holy Spirit to live in community and on mission. Haseloff noted the light-hearted “Ale 8 Hour,” which creates space for conversation and connection on Thursday afternoons, in addition to student-led community prayer times and small group studies.

Charles W. Price '05 and Asbury President Dr. Kevin Brown met this fall to finalize the Price Foundation's $1.5 million gift for Asbury to launch the Christian Life 101 program.

Introducing Christian Life 101

Also, Asbury recently received a $1.5 million four-year grant from the Louisville-based Price Foundation to fund the development and launch of the all-new Christian Life 101 program. The Price Foundation board includes Founders Charles E. and Janet Price, their daughter Sarah Price '01 Atwood and her husband Aaron, and their son Charles W. Price '05 and his wife Sarah.

"Our family is committed to raising a generation of young Christians who live boldly as ambassadors of Jesus Christ," said a Price Foundation statement. "Partnering with Asbury University to continue to empower them to teach biblical worldview is a natural fit. This is the perfect way to see our deep calling and Asbury's world-class mission bring the best out of both of our organizations. We are encouraged to see Asbury dedicate so much attention to the foundations of faith in an effort to grow deep-rooted future leaders."

The new program includes biblical worldview retreats during freshman year for Asbury students. The Christian Studies and Philosophy Department will oversee the program in collaboration with Student Life.

Asbury's brand promise to "belong, become, be set apart" will have a profound effect well beyond campus boundaries, as students "develop judgments and practices," as Brown put it, to leave campus and impact the world for Christ.

Asbury students will travel to Scotland to perform a pro-life play.

SET APART – ON STAGE

Asbury original play in Edinburgh will highlight the value of life

Asbury University theatre students will bring a message of hope to Scotland that is not often found in the mainstream in August 2022 when they perform at The Edinburgh Fringe Festival, the largest performing arts festival in the world. Asbury was invited to write and perform the play, called "Viking Summer," after a similar pro-life Asbury performance in 2019 that played to a sold-out crowd at the secular festival.

"It was a wonderfully overwhelming experience to perform at the Fringe," said theatre and performance major Morgan Owen '21. "It was amazing to be a part of such a huge experience."

"Viking Summer" was written by Asbury's Chair of the Department of Communication and Theatre Arts Dr. Jim Shores. The play is a story set on the island of Iona off the coast of Scotland. It explores the hard choices that result from two unanticipated pregnancies and passionately advocates for the lives of the young, the old, the disabled and the yet-to-be born.

Production of the play is sponsored by a grant from the Huston Foundation and was commissioned by the Edinburgh-based pro-life ministry, the Beating Heart Group. Each performance in Scotland will be followed up with a chance for audience conversation, prayer and Beating Heart volunteer opportunities.

"For people in the audience who have dealt with an abortion, I think it creates a space for them to have grace and forgive themselves — that's a big message in the piece," said Shores, adding that the opportunity to perform at this international event is monumental. "These students will have the potential to impact many lives for the Kingdom."

The actors will perform "Viking Summer" locally in April 2022 before taking it to Scotland.

Leaving a Legacy

Regardless of your age, you can leave a legacy to support future generations of Asburians through a planned gift. As part of a wise financial plan, you can make a significant philanthropic investment in Asbury's educational ministry and gain financial and tax benefits for you and your family.

If we can help you with your estate plan, please contact:
stuart.smith@asbury.edu • (859) 858-5707

Common planned gifts include:

- A charitable bequest is made through a simple provision in your will or trust and allows you to retain control of your assets during your lifetime.
- A charitable gift annuity is a life income gift that provides future philanthropic support for Asbury, current income for you and lowers your taxes.
- More than a source of security for your future, life insurance is a versatile asset that can be left to Asbury as a charitable gift.

Giving in Remembrance

An Asbury family turned the passing of a loved one into a beautiful memorial gift

Emily Brockinton '04 and Jeremiah Mullins '99 married after graduating from Asbury University and were quickly struck by a jarring health diagnosis.

"When I got married, I didn't think 'in sickness and in health' would be something that I would have to worry about a year into marriage," said Emily. "Yes, we all say it, but we would also all think, 'I don't have to worry about it until we're old.' For us, we had a year, and then 'in sickness and in health' got very real."

Jeremiah was diagnosed with cancer. Throughout radiation, chemotherapy and surgery, both Emily and Jeremiah held strong to their faith and remained positive. The couple had a prayer support group that not only prayed around the clock, but around the world.

Emily reflected how her personal faith grew as the cancer progressed, "I learned the hard way that I am tougher than I ever thought I could be. I can do hard things, and I can now help others who are in my same situation."

Ultimately, Jeremiah's body succumbed to the illness, and he was promoted to glory in 2014.

During Ignited: The Campaign for Asbury University, the family began a fundraising effort to celebrate Jeremiah's life by naming a space in the soon-to-be revitalized Student Center in his memory.

"We wanted to honor Jeremiah's life of service to the Kingdom, and this was an opportunity for students to see that a life can count for Jesus, no matter how short. Seeing this come to pass demonstrated to us how many people loved Jeremiah and continue to love Emily," said Emily's father, Dr. Joe Brockinton '74 who formerly served as Asbury vice president for Student Development.

One hundred and four friends and family members gave in remembrance.

"For me, Asbury is home," said Emily. "To have a place that has Jeremiah's name on it, at my 'home' is more than I could have ever dreamed of."

STAND IN THE GAP $150,000 MATCHING OPPORTUNITY FOR STUDENT SCHOLARSHIPS

A vigorous scholarship program is vital to ensure that students can begin, and complete, their transformative journey at Asbury. We need partners to stand in the gap for our students.

And now is a great time to partner with us. An alumni couple has committed a dollar-for-dollar match on every gift to the Fund for Asbury University between now and December 31, up to $150,000.

Will you stand in the gap for Asbury students with a special scholarship gift today and take advantage of the opportunity to double your gift?

President's Leadership Giving Society

The President's Leadership Giving Society (PLGS) connects the passions of Asbury University alumni, parents and friends to their philanthropy in a meaningful way.

Through the members of the PLGS, Asbury is able to enrich its academic programs, hire the best-in-class faculty, award scholarships, foster in students a commitment to Christ and to holiness of heart and life, provide for cross-cultural experiences, renovate and build campus facilities, and so much more.

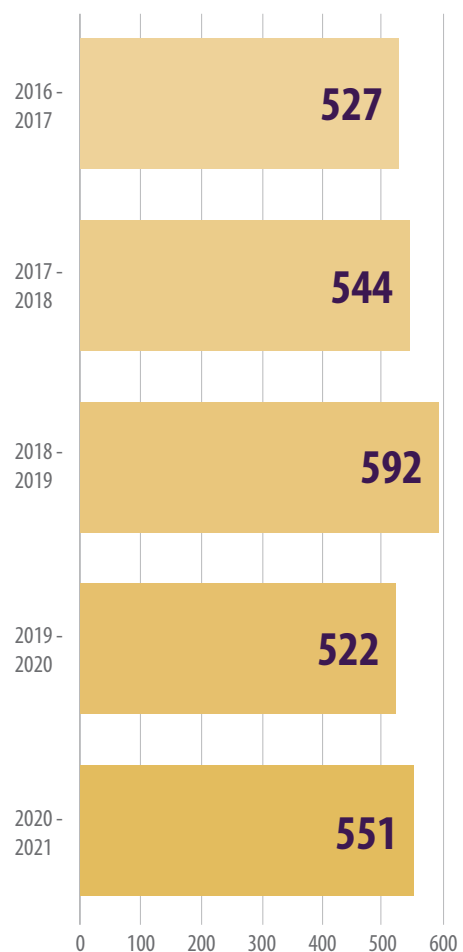

Simply put, the President's Leadership Giving Society is a group of faithful investors that provide the financial resources Asbury needs to provide a rigorous, Christ-centered liberal arts education designed to promote the development of the whole person.

The University is deeply grateful to those listed on these pages as PLGS members last fiscal year. Your giving not only impacts the lives of Asbury students, but the lives they will change as they engage in the world.

For all the ways you support Asbury, both seen and unseen, thank you. In the words of Paul the Apostle in Philippians 1:3-5, "I thank my God every time I remember you. In all my prayers for all of you, I always pray with joy because of your partnership in the gospel."

To make a gift to Asbury University, please visit asbury.edu/give or contact the Development Office at (859) 858-5136 or development@asbury.edu.

Donors of $1,000 or More

A New Way to Give - Donate Crypto

Recognizing the growing popularity of cryptocurrency among alumni and supporters, Asbury University now accepts charitable gifts made through digital currency.

All gifts of cryptocurrency are converted to cash upon acceptance and therefore are put to immediate use to advance our mission.

In addition to being highly secure, gifts of crypto may come with tax benefits. The IRS classifies cryptocurrency as property for tax purposes. When you donate crypto directly to a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, you receive a tax deduction for the fair market value.

Please consult your tax adviser for more information about how gifts of cryptocurrencies may benefit your overall financial strategy.

For more information, visit asbury.edu/givecrypto.

ASBURY ORIGINAL FILM GARNERS AWARDS AND RED-CARPET EVENT

The award-winning Asbury University Media Communication department hosted a red-carpet event premiering its film “Damaged Goods” in October at Kentucky’s historic Lyric Theatre. The female-led movie is co-directed by Hollywood veteran Nancy Stafford (“Matlock,” “Magnum P.I.,” “Who’s the Boss?”) and Asbury alumna Katie Oostman ’15, and written by Doug Smart, retired professor of Media Communications at Asbury.

It is a redemptive film that explores the difficult and culturally relevant topics of abuse, alcoholism, and family and relationship dysfunction.

“Producing ‘Damaged Goods’ was a project that included over 50 dedicated staff and crew members, primarily made up of students, staff and alumni,” said Dr. Jim Owens ’79, dean of the School of Communication Arts and professor of Media Communication. “Our goal was to create a film that was real as well as providing hope for the future. I am very proud of their work! ‘Damaged Goods’ is a film that we believe will resonate with our audience. It is honest and straight-forward while projecting hope in difficult times.”

Stafford traveled from Los Angeles for the event and to spend time with students in class. Stafford has been involved with other Asbury media projects prior to the film.

“I love Asbury’s Media Comm Department,” she noted. “I was thrilled to be invited to co-direct ‘Damaged Goods’ with talented Asbury alum Katie Oostman. Working alongside the students on set was exciting and impressive. Their work ethic, talent and film training was evident.”

“Damaged Goods” won Best Narrative Feature at the Knoxville Film Festival and was also selected for entry at NewFilmmakers NY, Louisville’s International Festival of Film, LA Femme International Film Festival, and Hollywood Women’s Film Institute: Hollywood Women’s International Film Festival

An Emergency Heart Procedure Led to New Opportunity

Asbury alumna Christiane Palpant '93 turned a seemingly hopeless time of livelihood inertia and restraint into a medium of artistic excellence that will be featured in art galleries in New York City and Paris.

A graduate of the Servant Class of 1993, Christiane's life took a dramatic turn in 2018 when she experienced harsh chest pains that carried into her trip home from Maine. "I really thought that I was going to die on that flight," said the physically active Christiane. Barely making it to the emergency room, she fainted at the hospital door and was rushed towards the EKG machine where doctors discovered her heart had stopped.

After an emergency procedure that led to open heart surgery and a two week stay in cardiac critical care, Christiane — who previously worked as a senior vice president of a global banking technology firm — was instructed to be as still as possible and remain on bed rest for more than a year. She decided to pass the time with painting, a medium that she rarely delved into before her health incident.

Her artistic efforts have drawn attention. In the fall of 2020, Agora Gallery in New York City took notice of Christiane's paintings and expressed interest in representing her from her home in Atlanta. She will also be featured in Paris, France's "Monteoliveto" gallery exhibition, which will include her piece "Once Upon a Breakthrough."

"When I'm painting, I find that it's really important to sit and feel comfortable with the moment, and then connect the emotions with the canvas," she reflected.

Her paintings can be found at art-mine.com/artistpage/christiane_palpant.

Changing the Game in Football Pads

Brian Gudalis '95 has revolutionized football thigh pads and offers customizable ways for athletes to wear uniforms. The Lexington-based business that was started in his garage is now featured in the nation's largest stadiums.

In 1998, Brian, who is an attorney by trade, brainstormed an idea to personalize football protection pads, which later grew into a business he named TreDCALS. The product started gaining traction among college football teams after it debuted on ESPN during the University of Kentucky and Michigan State game in October 2013. This evolved into Indianapolis Colts player DeForest Buckner modeling a TreDCALS cross design in the uniform-unveiling photoshoot. The football pads allow for players to show their unique personality or team spirit.

Asbury alum Brian Gudalis' customized football pads, including those worn in Super Bowl games, have become a national hit.

Facing the Unknown With Grace

For much of her life, Whitney Ward '12 has been the subject of research due to a rare gene mutation. To encourage others who are battling a chronic illness, she recently authored a children's book.

An immunologist was given her case file, and after three years, classified it as an entirely new disease. Being the first person to be diagnosed with it, Whitney was chosen to be involved in the naming of her Primary Immune Deficiency. She chose to call it "MAGIS Syndrome," which in Latin means "More." Her passion is to proclaim God's truth that those struggling with an illness are more than their disease.

So, Whitney has authored the children's book "MORE Than Your Mountains." She hopes young and old alike will be encouraged that God can give them the tools needed to face their illness.

Her book can be purchased on Amazon.com.

YOUTH BECOMING LEADERS

High School Christian Leadership and Global Transformations Institute

YOUTH BECOMING LEADERS

At Youth Becoming Leaders (YBL), Asbury University offers a unique opportunity for high school students to experience campus in Wilmore while also learning valuable leadership skills.

“The world needs better leaders,” said YBL Director and Assistant Professor of Youth Ministry Dr. Brian Hull. “The church needs better leaders. At Asbury we believe high school students can be great Christ-like leaders starting now — and in the future. YBL is a way to help young people who are already leaders take the next step in leadership for the church and the kingdom of God.”

The 2022 camp is from June 6-17, and students will stay in Asbury’s residence halls, learn in classrooms, eat in the dining hall, and use student resources.

To learn more about YBL or to financially invest in the program, visit asbury.edu/ybl.

GIVE CAMP FOR CHRISTMAS!

Gift a high school student with a life-changing week at Asbury University’s ImpactU camp this summer! Campers will spend a week on Asbury’s campus focusing on a variety of content areas such as film, chorus, and forensic science.

Experienced faculty and talented college students will be staffing the camps where students will get a five-day, college-like experience that includes all food, lodging, supplies, evening activities and hands-on exploration of an academic area in the context of a Christian community.

Summer 2022 Dates:

Week 1 - June 20 - 24 | Week 2 - June 27 - July 1

The Asbury Promise Provides Full Tuition Award

In October, Asbury affirmed its commitment to making higher education possible for all Kentucky students who desire a private, Christian college degree, regardless of their economic situation. Starting Fall 2022, Asbury will guarantee 100% tuition coverage for any first-time freshmen students from Kentucky who receive federal Pell Grant assistance and have a minimum 3.0 high school cumulative GPA.

"We recognize that the quality and value of an Asbury education, while worth a reasonable level of financial sacrifice, also needs to be affordable and attainable for all students who wish to attend. I am pleased to announce the Asbury Promise tuition guarantee as a step toward extending the Asbury mission," said Asbury University Provost Timothy T. Wooster, Ph.D.

Meet the Asbury Alumni Board

Group ensures alumni around the world stay connected

Serving as ambassadors from the alumni family to the University and from Asbury to the alumni family, the volunteer members of the Alumni Board come to campus two times a year ready to engage, connect, advise and contribute with their time, talent and thoughtfulness.

From determining award recipients and mentoring students, to planning gatherings and serving as a focus group, this Board is made up of 21 alumni, four officers and four ex-officio members. This diverse group of men and women represent alumni from five different decades; 12 states and one country, Liberia; and vocationally from business, medicine, cattle farming, education, strategic communications and entertainment, to name a few. We are grateful for this dedicated and committed group of people.

"Serving on the Alumni Board is an honor and a privilege," said Lisa Corbett '86 Bacon. "When a diverse group of Asbury alumni gather in one location with a common goal of forwarding the mission of Asbury University, mighty things happen. We are challenged to encourage the many Asburians spread across the globe, and to raise up new Asburians who will become our future leaders and world changers, advancing the cause of Christ."

The Alumni Board is busy making plans for Reunion 2022 which will be held June 24-26 with the theme "Goodness of God."

"We will acknowledge and celebrate God's goodness," said Director of Alumni Relations Lisa Falin '90 Harper. "There will be banner-year gatherings for classes ending in 2s and 7s, as well as a performance by our Concert Band alumni. All alumni are invited as we come together for fellowship, renewal and refreshment. Our youth program is a great opportunity for the whole family to enjoy this time away. Come back to campus!"

New Projects on the Horizon

Asbury starts a major renovation of the Student Center

The generous outpouring of support from alumni and donors is helping carry the University into its next chapter — one of innovative new facilities and services to further enhance Asbury's commitment to academic excellence, spiritual vitality and the student experience.

From 1927 to 2001, the Morrison-Kenyon Library was the center of academic study for Asbury students. Following the construction of the Kinlaw Library, this historic building received a modest renovation and was given a new purpose: to serve as the Student Center, the hub of our vital student community life at Asbury University.

Funding for a full revitalization of the building was part of Ignited: The Campaign for Asbury University and was the focus of the 2015 to 2019 Reunion Gift Projects. Phase I of the renovation was completed in the summer of 2020. In October, the administration announced that Phase II of the project is moving forward.

The revitalization project will almost double the square footage by opening the first floor and providing multiple entrances to the building. Other key pieces of the renovation include the installation of an elevator, expanding the coffee shop, moving the bookstore and campus post office from Hamann-Ray to the Student Center, creating lounge and conference areas, beautification to the outdoor entrance and more. Construction will be completed by Fall 2022.

The revitalized Student Center will be named in honor of Retired Salvation Army General Dr. Paul A. Rader '54 and Commissioner Kay Fuller '57 Rader. A new outdoor community space is also being constructed as part of the project and will be known as Moulton Commons, named in honor of former faculty members Dr. Al '60 and Yvonne Cochran '58 Moulton.

Collaborative Learning Center

Construction of the Collaborative Learning Center remains on schedule to open by Fall 2022. Progress like drywall, windows and a stage are moving the project along at an exciting pace. The building will be dedicated at Alumni Reunion in June 2022. 1 2

2021 Reunion Gift Project Results

The campaign raised more than $201,000 and is making an immediate impact.

The 2021 Reunion Gift Project funds are enhancing the student experience by funding the construction of an outdoor dining area adjacent to the west wing of the Johnson Dining Hall. The new outdoor dining area will be completed by early Spring 2022.

Thanks to the 2021 Reunion Gift Project, students will also receive financial assistance to go on cross-cultural and mission-oriented trips. Thank you for your generosity!

Next to the outdoor dining area is the Student Center, where construction also has commenced. The renovation includes outdoor features that will also tie in seamlessly with the new Collaborative Learning Center exterior hardscapes. The entire surrounding area will be modern, functional and beautiful. 3

Other Construction News

The Kirkland Complex has an updated look for the 2021-22 season with a new press box at the softball field. The two-story structure features a climate-controlled elevated view above the softball grandstands for game management staff and live-streaming broadcasts on the Asbury Sports Digital Network. The first floor provides much-needed storage space. The project also included the installation of a new permanent sound system for the softball facility. 4

In the Hager Administration Building, work is complete on a video and photo studio. The repurposed space and new equipment allow Asbury to keep pace with the increased need for digital and virtual communications. The stunning set wall was crafted by Old World Timber, founded by Nathan Brown '98. 5

Songs of the Season

In-person concert will be livestreamed around the world

Songs of the Season will be held Friday, Dec. 3, at 7:30 p.m. in Hughes Auditorium. The free concert is Asbury President Dr. Kevin Brown's gift to the community and is the same weekend as the iconic Wilmore Old Fashioned Christmas festivities.

Directed by Assistant Professor of Music Dr. Nathan Miller '05, Songs of the Season is a unique collaboration between the English and Music departments. The Asbury orchestra and chorale will perform along with readings from English faculty members.

For those unable to attend in person, the Media Communications department will livestream the concert, providing another hands-on learning experience for students to use cutting-edge technology. The video broadcast will be directed from a control room in Miller Center for Communication Arts where students will also remotely control cameras in Hughes.

Since November 2020, the Asbury livestream in Hughes has been viewed by thousands of alumni, friends and family around the nation and the world, who tune in for events like Chapel, Reunion with coinciding Hymn Sing and other special events.

The livestream capabilities were made possible by the 2020 Reunion Gift Project.

Songs of the Season can be watched online at asbury.edu.

The Joy of the Lord is Our Strength

During the last few months, we have hosted camps, welcomed students back to campus, and sponsored alumni events in cities across the U.S. Our advancement team has met in homes, restaurants and on Zoom with people who believe in Asbury's mission. Though uncertainty is around us, I always come away encouraged after connecting with alums and supporters.

In these strange and sometimes challenging days, God gives us the ability to rise above our current circumstances and be set apart in ways that truly are not natural.

In Nehemiah, after a public reading of Scripture, the children of Israel were in sorrow because their lives were not in alignment with the law. Nehemiah did not chastise them but instead encouraged them saying "The joy of the Lord is your strength." John 13 says that people will know we are His disciples by the love we have for one another. God gives us a unique ability — through the Holy Spirit — to rise above our circumstances and be a light to others around us, even when it is difficult. That is not natural, it is supernatural.

I believe Asbury University holds a special place in higher education — it is set apart. Asburians living, leading and serving around the globe are the evidence. By being the hands and feet of Jesus to one person, one family, one community, God's Kingdom advances. The love and joy we express to those around us can only be explained through God's work in our lives.

Our mission is important, but it is not easy. We are blessed to have thousands of prayer warriors and philanthropic supporters alongside us. As we celebrate the donors and impact of giving in this issue of the Ambassador, I am filled with joy. As I look to the future, knowing the path to remain set apart for God will only get tougher, I have a confident hope.

Thanks for praying, thanks for giving, thanks for encouraging. The joy of the Lord is our strength!

Men's Golf Wins NCCAA National Championship

Asbury University captured its first-ever National Christian College Athletic Association (NCCAA) National Championship as the men's golf team won the 2021 title October 20 at the Hammock Beach Resort Ocean Course in Palm Coast, Fla.

The Eagles, who entered the final round with a three-stroke lead, sealed the victory by seven shots with a three-day total of 918. Cedarville University finished second at 925, followed by Malone University at 931 and Grace College at 935.

Asbury was led by senior standout Marco Ezcurra '22 who posted scores of 73, 72, and 78 (223 | +7 | T1st). He tied for individual medal honors and was edged out in a playoff on the third hole. Ezcurra, along with his teammates, Victor Vargas '22 and Garrett Sturges '25, was named to the NCCAA All-American team.

Vargas finished the Championship in fourth place (226 | 73-77-76 | +10), while Sturges tied for eighth place (232 | 80-77-75 | +16). The AU lineup was rounded out by Juan Valdivieso '23 and Nathan Stine '22, both of whom earned NCCAA Mideast All-Region honors earlier this season.

Asbury women's golf notable player Faith Wiley '22 also earned NCCAA All-American honors with a third-place individual finish at the 2021 NCCAA Women's Golf National championship. The talented senior posted scores of 78, 78, and 81 for a three-day total of 237 (+21) at the Ocean Course.

"This is a great day for Asbury golf," said Head Coach Scott Ferguson who was honored as the 2021 NCCAA Coach of the Year. "We've been talking about competing in this Championship since the beginning of the fall season. I am so proud of this team and their ability to compete and win, particularly on a challenging golf course in windy conditions."

"I pray that we can continue to build this program and honor God in the process," Ferguson added. "I also want to thank the NCCAA for making this such a special event for all the student-athletes. It was an experience that we'll never forget."

CROSS COUNTRY TEAMS HEAD TO NATIONALS

For the 14th straight year, the AU cross country teams will have runners in post-season national championship competition. The last 13 years either the men's or women's team or select individuals have made it to the NAIA national finals. This year both the men's and women's teams have qualified for the National Christian College Athletic Association (NCCAA) championship meet November 13 in Joplin, Mo.

Both teams have posted strong finishes throughout the fall season, highlighted by their performances in the Louisville Classic, the largest meet of the year. Racing against runners from 65 other schools, including many NCAA Division I and II teams, the Eagles ran their best times of the season.

Sophomore Wes Preston recorded a personal best time of 27:35 for the 8K (5 mile) distance, moving him to 25th on the Asbury all-time list (which includes all 230 male runners who have competed for the Eagles over the last 51 years). Sophomore standout Carolina Trumpower, who earned conference Newcomer of the Year honors last season, paced the women's team once again with a season best time of 20:38.7 for 5K (3.1 miles).

WINTER TEAMS START NCAA DIII SEASONS

The men's and women's swimming teams opened their season Oct. 22 as several new NCAA Division III opponents highlight the 2021-22 schedule. The season culminates with AU's first-ever appearance in the Liberal Arts Championship Feb. 9-12 in Elsayh, Ohio. The Eagles' women's team, led by sophomore standout Amber Schulte, earned a conference championship last season. The men's team, which finished as the conference runner-up a year ago, is anchored by highly decorated senior Alex Wu.

Basketball season on the Asbury campus began in early November as both the men's and women's teams hope to build on their success during the 2020-21 season. The AU women return three starters, including senior all-conference standout Autumn Herriford, while the men also return three starters, led by junior all-conference performer Eric Powell.

The women's lacrosse team will begin their 2022 schedule in February with hopes of continuing the momentum of last year's success. The Eagles earned their first conference tournament bid and first post season victory in program history.

LEXINGTON CLINIC JOINS CORPORATE SPONSOR TEAM

Asbury Athletics received additional support this fall as Lexington Clinic became the newest member of the TeamAU Corporate Sponsor program.

"Since 1990, Lexington Clinic has partnered with Asbury University and provided team physician services to their athletic department," said Lexington Clinic CEO Dr. Stephen Behnke, a 1994 Asbury graduate. "We are excited to continue this partnership going forward and providing their athletes access to the highest quality orthopedic care available in the region."

STUDENT ATHLETES ARE A KEY PART OF ASBURY SUCCESS

Asbury's step up to the NCAA brings more opportunity for AU student-athletes on and off the field. This is an important milestone for the 357 students representing 16 varsity sports and cheerleading during the 2021-22 academic year. Student-athletes account for approximately one-third of the student body every year and are an integral part of the campus community.

To follow the Eagles, visit AsburyEagles.com or use the QR code. You can find them on Twitter, Instagram and Facebook.

Fall Revival 2021

Fall Revival was a chance for the Asbury community to hear from Dr. Matt Ayars '06, an Asbury alum who currently serves as president of Wesley Biblical Seminary in Mississippi. Students and faculty received week-long messages on spiritual “forming and filling,” as well as lowly graves becoming beautiful gardens through Christ’s work. Impactful awakening was evident during revival week. “Revival is no mystery,” said Ayars, “We’re not waiting for God. God is waiting for us.”

Goofy Comes to Campus

The arrival of a certain Disney voice actor had Asbury University exclaiming “Gawrsh!” On Sept. 9, Bill Farmer, the voice of Goofy, visited campus and spoke to students and faculty. Farmer is the recipient of the Disney Legend Award, which is gifted to those whose talents have greatly impacted and shaped the Disney legacy. He was honored with the award in 2009 alongside notorious entertainers Robin Williams and Betty White. At Asbury, he discussed his voice acting career and allowing God to govern through the entirety of his career. “It was the ability to let Him help, to let Him guide me,” said Farmer. “The peace that you get from trusting in God was the most important thing for me because it allowed me to overcome. Don’t be afraid, go boldly and with joy.”

OMS Student Center Reopens on Campus

After a three-year hiatus, the One Mission Society (OMS) Asbury Student Leadership Development Center reopened to assist Asbury students in their spiritual lives both on campus and across the globe. “We want to help you get on the mission field,” said Director David Schnake. “However, we are also interested in discipling students as they are seeking how they can use their gifts, abilities and career as a calling.” The OMS organization sponsors events and forums that allow Asbury students to strengthen their faith walk, such as an upcoming men’s Bible study where an evening in God’s word is followed by an NFL Thursday Night Football Game. Schnake and his wife, Janelle, also offer a “front porch ministry,” which is an opportunity to connect with students one-on-one while either sipping tea on the front porch or mentoring over a home-cooked meal. “As much as we want to send students to the mission field and help those that are called," said Schnake, "we also want to help students, in general, to draw closer to the Lord." For information, visit oms-asbury.com.

Also under the OMS umbrella, students have the opportunity to seek deeper connections and community at a newly formed fellowship forum. Hope Odubena '23 and Keren Keener '23 partnered with the Asbury's OMS center and created "Cô Seek," an organization committed to meeting students where they are and engaging together in authentic conversations about faith and life. "You cannot dissect the word of God without discussing it," said Odubena. Keener elaborated "Our goal is to be the place where students can safely open up about doubts and struggles, and decipher all the knowledge that we receive about faith." The weekly group touches on the difficult questions with complete transparency on all topics, hoping to build students' confidence and security in their faith.

Embrace Conference

The fourth annual Embrace Conference took place on November 9-10 and explored the topic of grace-filled reconciliation. Dr. Michael O. Emerson, a professor and department head of Sociology at the University of Illinois Chicago, spoke on the Christian response to racial injustice. "Few issues tear at the fabric of our Christianity and our nation like racial division and inequality," he said. "The Embrace Conference stands to meet the challenge, believing in a better day."

Students Unwind at Fall Campus Events

Various campus-wide events have taken place to inform students as well as allow them to kick back with their peers. To celebrate Latino Heritage month (Sept. 15 to Oct. 15), the Latino Student Alliance held a festival where students learned common Hispanic and Latino dance steps and enjoyed authentic food. The Office of Intercultural Life with the Asian Student Alliance presented the Mid-Autumn Festival, a community celebration with demonstrations, activities and delicious food. Market on the Green was also held this fall where students supported local businesses. The businesses and student vendors came together to share more about their missions and the products they have to offer.

Admissions Hosts Fall Visit Events

In-person Visit Events returned to campus this fall. The Admissions Office hosted a Fall Preview event on Oct. 1 with a record 100-plus students and their families. On Oct. 21, Asbury's Equine Event hosted students from all over the nation to experience the unique programming offered by our Equine Department, centered in the heart of Kentucky's horse country. On Nov. 5, Homeschool Visit Day participants met with professors, toured campus and talked with current Asbury students who also were homeschooled.

In 2022, there are more events scheduled, including the Salvation Army Visit Event Jan. 27-30. To see the full list of visit opportunities, visit asbury.edu/admissions-aid/visit/events.

Dayton School of Business Launches Center for Professional Selling

Asbury's Dayton School of Business has established a Center for Professional Selling focused on educating the next generation of sales professionals. Led by Associate Professor of Marketing Dr. George Allen, this initiative will ultimately be housed in the Collaborative Learning Center and will include a suite of sales role-play rooms where students will hone their sales skills in classes and sales competitions. On October 12, Allen hosted a virtual Coffee & Conversations gathering with alumni who are or have been in a sales position. His goal is to connect students with alumni mentors to help them learn more about working in the sales world and also help shape the way Asbury students are trained.

"In national sales competitions, our students are showing that they can successfully compete against students from some of the largest universities in the U.S.," Allen said. "I hope that Asbury alumni with experience in sales will partner with us in helping students develop their skills and will consider these future salespeople for internships and career positions they become aware of."

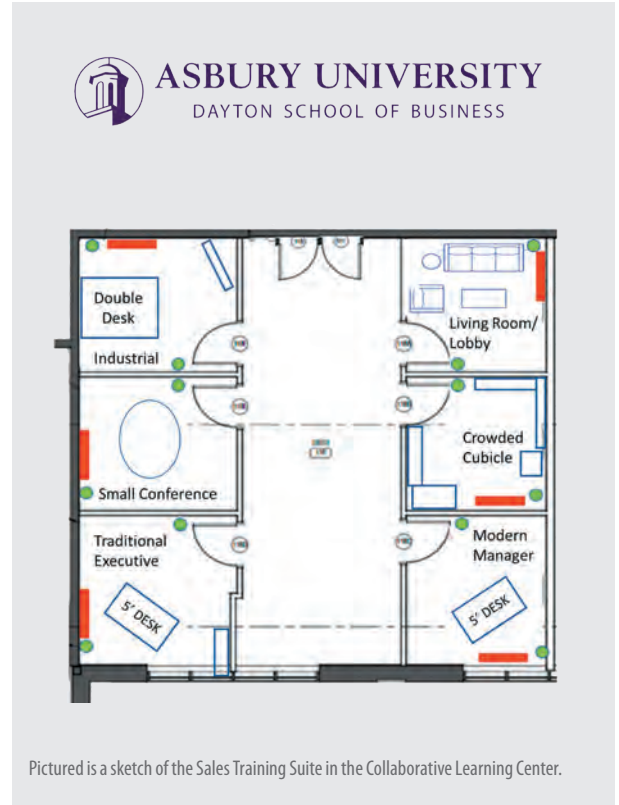

If you're interested in mentoring, please contact Allen at george.allen@asbury.edu.

Asbury Launches Christian School Partnership Program

Asbury University will offer enrolling students from Lexington Christian Academy (LCA) the same tuition as they pay for their high school education. Beginning next year, LCA graduates who choose Asbury for their college journey will be offered a renewable tuition-match for the same rate as the current LCA twelfth grade.

The Asbury Christian School Partnership (CSP) program provides access to a continuation of a Christ-centered education while maintaining the cost of that education for students and their families. Asbury President Dr. Kevin Brown said, "Asbury University is honored to provide tuition-match, dual credit as well as other benefits to the community at LCA. We look forward to continuing the great education and spiritual formation that these students have received from LCA when they choose Asbury University for their college experience."

With dual enrollment through the Asbury Academy, students can enter Asbury already ahead on freshmen level classes. At only $72 per credit hour, high school seniors can take 100- and 200-level courses online or in person at Asbury. LCA's Head of School Dr. Scott Wells is a 1985 Asbury graduate.

AUHP and SEARCH at Asbury Kicks Off With Dr. Chris Bounds

SEARCH at Asbury is continuing to elevate its programming. It began the 2021-22 school year speaker series with Dr. Chris Bounds '88 speaking on the topic of Human Dignity, particularly on issues like abortion, capital punishment and immigration. In partnership with Asbury's all-new Honors Program (AUHP), SEARCH welcomed Bounds to campus for a lecture and reception. He also held a Q&A session with the Honors students, who are studying Human Value & Dignity all year.

SEARCH is Asbury's hub for imaginative intellectual activity. Through year-round events and programs, Asbury students are engaged in transformative learning of all kinds, equipping them to lead in a world that craves their vision. The program creates space, fosters fellowship and ignites conversations among students, faculty, alumni and scholars that promote the mutual illumination of faith and reason.

Asbury Students Nominated for Emmys

Asbury students were nominated by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences (Ohio Valley Region) for student production Emmy awards in nine different categories. With the nominations, Asbury beat out all other universities in its region with the number of nominations.

Asbury University President Dr. Kevin Brown commented on the nominations and the impact the faculty has made on the students, "Our Media Communications students continue to set the bar for student excellence in media. Great thanks to you all for your leadership, guidance, mentoring, teaching and forming of these incredible students." The accomplishments include nominations in directing, photography, writing, animation and graphics, and more.

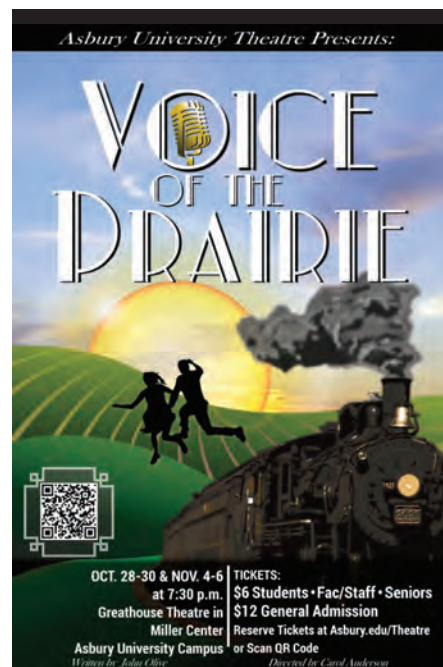

Equine Program Earns Thoroughbred Re-Training Accolades

This fall marked the first year that Asbury equine students were selected to participate in the Thoroughbred Makeover sponsored by the Thoroughbred Charities of America. The program culminated in October at the Kentucky Horse Park with a competition where the students and their retired racehorses showed off their new skills after two years of hard work.

Many of the Thoroughbreds are retrained as ranch horses, hunter-jumpers, dressage, and trail horses, saving them from the neglect of post-racing retirement. Together with the four ex-racehorses they trained, Asbury students won six ribbons and every student placed in at least one category.

Asbury Theatre Brings the Prairie to Life on Stage

In October, Asbury's Theatre department presented Voice of the Prairie. The show is centered in 1905 on two runaways — a young storyteller and a blind girl – who find love, loss and adventure riding the trains of the Midwest. Years later with the rise of 1920s radio the young man becomes a storytelling sensation as the Voice of the Prairie still in search of the girl he lost. Asbury's theatre major provides acting training for those interested in acting for stage and film as well as tech and design training and opportunities. Learn more at asbury.edu/theatre.

Faculty Achievements

Dr. Brian Shelton '89, Theology professor and the department chair of Christian Studies and Philosophy, was recently named Asbury's Wesley Scholar. The position looks to advance Wesleyan Theology in speaking and representing Asbury in different venues, both on and off campus.

"This position imagines the promotion of Wesleyan thought first in the life of the Asbury campus. It also imagines scholarship, research, presentations and preaching of both the story and the teaching of the Wesleys beyond the campus," Shelton said. "John Wesley once remarked, 'The world is my parish,' and I intend to make conferences, churches and publishing houses my new parish. We often call ourselves a 'Wesleyan-Arminian institution,' but the understanding of this varies from person to person. The hope is that the position will provide resourcing to faculty members to understand and embrace our heritage even more."

In the English Department, Dr. Devin Brown also hit theological elements in a new book. Brown wrote the chapter "The Complex Intersection of Providence and Free Will in Middle-Earth" for a forthcoming book "Theology and Tolkien" from Fortress Academic.

Brown also served as the content editor for "Narnia, Middle-Earth, and Beyond: The Transcendent Vision of Mythopoeic Fantasy," which will be published by McFarland in 2022. He was a guest on two episodes of the "Pints with Jack" podcast, and in July, he was the keynote speaker at a Lewis Conference held at Montreat College. In September, he spoke at Christ Church Cathedral during their Forum Lecture Series.

In June 2021, Associate Dean of the School of Communication Arts Sean Gaffney presented at the PCA National Conference on "MCU vs DCEU: Character Counts." The paper focused on the success of the Marvel Cinematic Universe based on the use of character growth and positive values.

Assistant Professor of Instructional Design Dr. Lisa Jones published an article "How Instructional Design Can Improve Business Flow" in The Lane Report in May 2021. Additionally, Jones was accepted to present at the Association for Educational Communications and Technology (AECT) conference on the evolution of the Instructional Design profession in academic literature in November. She also wrote the Masters in Instructional Design Innovation and Leadership curriculum for Asbury, which had its first cohort starting in August with six students.

School of Education Assistant Professor Dr. Brittany Worthen '08 graduated in May with a Doctorate in Education in Instruction and Administration from the University of Kentucky. She will be presenting at the 2021 Annual Literacy Research Association Conference in December on her research titled "Teacher Decision-Making in Guided Reading."

Over the summer, Professors of Art Josh Smith and Margaret Park Smith had several pieces of work purchased by New Museum in New York City for sale in the museum shop. This sale was born out of Dovetail Practice's representation by American Design Club, a fruitful partnership forged in 2018 during Renegade Craft, when Dovetail Practice was asked to provide images for promotional material.

Professor of New Testament Dr. Suzanne Nicholson is the assistant lead editor for Firebrand, a free online magazine dedicated to a higher level of discourse regarding orthodox Wesleyan theology and church life. She has published several articles in Firebrand during the past year, most recently, "Love That Transforms: How Recovering the Story of Scripture Informs the Human Sexuality Debate" and "When God Does Something New." Nicholson is also published in The Journal of Inductive Biblical Studies.

Professor of Art History Dr. Linda Stratford recently received a $30,000 grant from Networking Grants for Christian Scholars offered by the Council for Christian College and Universities (CCCU). Her collaborative three-year project "Religion and Contemporary Art" will be funded through an initiative entitled "Developments and New Directions in Religion and Contemporary Art: A Curious Accord." Her project team includes Dr. Rachel Hostetter Smith from Taylor University, Dr. Ronald R. Bernier from Wentworth Institute of Technology, Dr. James Romaine from Lander University, and Prof. Jonathan Anderson from Duke Divinity School.

CCCU Networking Grants facilitate Christian scholarly collaboration with an end toward impacting the broader academic community. Grants are designed to enable small groups of Christian scholars to network in ways that will lead to collaborative scholarship on themes of interest and significance to the larger academy.

Asbury Special Events Class Wins Awards for the 2020 Highbridge Film Festival During Lockdown

The Asbury Special Events class won several awards from communications organizations for the 2020 Highbridge Film Festival online event, held on April 25, 2021, during the lockdown phase of the pandemic.

- The International Association of Business Communicators (IABC) presented Asbury with two awards: A Gold Quill Award of Merit and the Sharon Berzok Student Award presented to students achieving the highest standard of communication excellence in the student categories.
- The NYX Marcom Awards recognized Asbury with a Gold Award for the social media promotion campaign of the 2020 Highbridge at-home watch party and livestream event.
- The Academy of Interactive and Visual Arts (AIVA) awarded Asbury a Communicator Award of Distinction for the 2020 Highbridge livestream video production.
- The Lexington Thoroughbred Chapter of the Public Relations Society of America (PRSA) awarded Asbury a "Win" out of Win, Place, or Show in the student category for the 2020 Highbridge Film Festival Event.

As director of the Highbridge Film Festival, Todd Wold, assistant professor of Communication & Public Relations, said he is proud of what his 2020 Special Events students achieved, especially since they faced significant challenges and obstacles during the lockdown.

"The biggest win was bringing the Asbury community together in one virtual place and time to celebrate the creativity and storytelling of our students," Wold said.

2022 Reunion Gift Project: A GARDEN PLAZA

The 2022 Reunion Gift Project will construct a Garden Plaza that will provide a beautiful outdoor space for conversation and community for students, families and alumni.

The planned Plaza is next to the Luce Center and is centrally located among TeamAU athletic fields. It will consist of artfully designed hardscaped and landscaped areas.

Thanks to alum Derek Motsch '02 from ElementDesign for the beautiful rendering.

CONSTRUCTION OF THE COLLABORATIVE LEARNING CENTER IS ON SCHEDULE AND WILL BE COMPLETED IN SUMMER 2022

Progress like drywall, windows and a stage are moving the project along at an exciting pace. An official dedication is planned for Saturday, June 25, 2022, during the Alumni Reunion, preceded by a building name reveal on March 4, 2022, during a chapel service coinciding with the spring Board of Trustees meeting.
