President's Message

Harvesting Abundance From All Asburians

It is not unusual for the new president of a university to run the gamut of emotions in their first 100 days. There is much to learn, goals to accomplish, business to consider, constituents to meet and objectives to set and achieve. Yet amidst the whirlwind of activity and acclimation, one response rises above the rest: Gratitude.

I have found myself the recipient of a fruitful harvest based upon seeds of time, energy, commitment, prayer and resources planted by those before me. Put differently, this position came with an inheritance. This includes:

- A tremendous executive-level cabinet with competent, experienced, driven, visionary and collegial team members;
- The opportunity to work with and walk alongside a functional, accomplished, harmonious, supportive, discerning and ambitious Board of Trustees;
- The privilege of partnering with Asbury Provost Timothy Wooster, who started in January of 2019. Dr. Wooster is a seasoned professional who uniquely blends analytical sensibilities with entrepreneurial vision;
- Executive Assistants who have been able to buffer the friction associated with a presidential transition and provide insightful direction and immense support;
- Accomplished faculty who are committed to love, educate and challenge our students;
- Passionate, competent staff who are student-centric and committed to the Asbury mission;
- The success and momentum of Asbury's largest comprehensive capital campaign in school history;
- The 50-year anniversary of one of Asbury's most important spiritual moments, the 1970 Revival, and the opportunity to both appreciate our spiritual heritage and faithfully pray that God may awaken us again in a powerful way; and
- A broad, prayerful and supportive constituency — including alumni and friends of Asbury (we thank many starting on page 13) — stretching from Wilmore, Ky., to the ends of the world.

The ebb and flow of a president's office can pull a variety of emotional strings. But I am harvesting abundance from the faithful efforts of men and women before me. I am thankful.

One of my favorite poems, "Devotion," comes from Robert Frost:

"The heart can think of no devotion,
Greater than being shore to ocean;
Holding the curve of one position,
Counting an endless repetition."

For Frost, faithful devotion is like an ocean shore, letting the ocean waves break upon it again, and again and again. It is committed, resolved, patterned and anchored.

Among other things, this characterizes the faithfulness of past Asburians and is a reminder of God's faithfulness to us. As the great hymn reminds us, "Great is thy faithfulness, Lord unto me."

In this season of learning, growth and busyness, it is my aim to maintain this sense of gratitude — and further, to devotedly and faithfully plant new seeds for a future harvest. ■

Dr. Kevin J. Brown
President
Asbury University

"One of my greatest joys in this new position is getting to continue my walk alongside our amazing students."

A Home Run with Faith & Family Night

Peanuts, Cracker Jacks and rooting for the home team are some of the best parts of summertime in Kentucky! Asbury partnered with the Lexington Legends to provide all of that and more in July during Faith & Family Night. The evening featured a Legends baseball game, fireworks show and concert from Christian rock phenomenon I Am They, popular for hits like “Scars” and “My Feet Are on the Rock.” More than 7,000 people — including dozens of AU students, faculty, staff and alums — came out to enjoy the Asbury community and worship under the stars!

Learning to Embrace Each Other

What does racial reconciliation look like in the Christian context? That’s the question Asbury’s 2nd-annual Embrace Conference sought to explore. Through a series of sessions, a Chapel service and several meals, hundreds of students, faculty, staff and guests dove deep into the concept of mutuality. Special guest Bishop Leonard Fairley served as keynote speaker, and a special session was held by Fayette County Clerk Shea

EMBRACE

Brown and Andrew Russell English. They discussed their project “(Re)Imagine Cheapside,” in which they worked to uncover the records of enslaved people in the Fayette County Records. “With a mission of ‘Start Here. Impact the World,’ I think it is great that Asbury University offers opportunities like the Embrace Conference on campus because it allows us to look into different cultures,” Demarion Johnson ’21 said. “To impact the world, we have to understand the world and all that it entails, and culture and diversity is a huge part of that!”

AU Equine Isn’t Horsing Around

The word is out — Asbury University’s student-trained service mounts are the best on the market. So, it comes as no surprise that when six police departments from the U.S. and Canada visited Asbury’s Equine Center in conjunction with the annual National Mounted Police Horse Colloquium that Asbury completely sold out of available horses. A Work of Art

Asbury students demonstrate excellence on campus and abroad! The latest example of this is Vivi Feiser '21 (top right) who is spending a portion of her study abroad on Asbury's Paris Semester working in the Louvre Museum. Feiser was selected to work as a copyist through her directed study Old Master's Technique. An Art major, Feiser spends a portion of her time studying under Paris-based artist Betsy Damez and the rest of her time in the museum, copying some of the most famous paintings in the world. Feiser is one of 19 students who is getting professional work experience in her field in the City of Lights this fall semester.

Postcards from Paris

Asbury University's Paris Semester takes the Asbury experience abroad. This semester, 19 students are taking a full load of classes, participating in for-credit internships and navigating big-city life under the direction of Dr. Linda Stratford. Read about this once-in-a-lifetime experience from the students' perspective on the Paris Semester Student Blog at asbury.edu/paris.

Crunching the Numbers

Twelve pre-education Math majors got a taste of life on the job at the Kentucky Council of Teachers of Mathematics (KCTM). The conference gave students special insight into their field and presented unique professional development opportunities as they prepare to become the next generation of educators. Asbury faculty and students have been invited to present their research at the conference for the past six years.

AU Theatre Breaks a Leg

Asbury's Greathouse Theatre kicked off its 2019-20 season with a plethora of insightful, funny and heartwarming productions this semester. Professor Jeff Day directed an empowering production of "Silent Sky" and Professor Carol Anderson headed up the mystery/thriller "An Inspector Calls." As is characteristic of the department, students got to try their hand at creating their own shows with David Gomez' 20 writing and producing "Love Songs," a musical with all original songs that he wrote.

It's All in the Family

Asbury welcomed General Brian Peddle to campus this semester. Peddle, the CEO and General of The Salvation Army, has served in his role since August 2018. "I am excited to be experiencing Asbury for myself after hearing many wonderful stories from Asbury graduates and students," Peddle said. He spoke in Chapel, held an informal reception and toured campus.

Peddle was joined by a variety of distinguished national and international guests from The Salvation Army.

APS Programs Take Students Far

APS student Tara Haynes '19 can certainly tell you how to get to Sesame Street. In June, the PBS KIDS Early Learning Champion was invited to Alaska by the network to celebrate the premiere of its newest show "Molly of Denali." During the trip, Haynes visited a local early childhood center, the Anchorage Museum and the Alaska Native Heritage Center. She also met with Alaska Native educators and the advisors to the producers of "Molly of Denali." ■

EYE ON THE EAGLES

ASBURY ATHLETES ARE MENTORING MIRACLES

The Asbury University baseball team spent a few hours on a Saturday morning this fall mentoring some young athletes who play ball for the Toyota Bluegrass Miracle League in Lexington. With a rubberized playing surface, plastic bats and balls and a buddy system where each player has a mentor beside them on the field, the Miracle League offers the chance for children and adults with special needs to be on a team and enjoy the game of baseball. The Asbury baseball team has volunteered with the Miracle League each fall for several years and the Eagles softball team has joined in the past two years.

ANDREWS NAMED ASSISTANT AD

A 2006 Asbury University graduate, in his 10th season as men's soccer coach, Ben Andrews has been named assistant athletic director. "Ben has embraced the new vision for Asbury Athletics with great energy and passion," said Vice President for Intercollegiate Athletics Mark Whitworth '84. "He is a talented and dedicated athletic administrator who has led by example... Everyone involved in #TeamAU will benefit from his leadership and vision."

WOMEN'S GOLF WINS FALL PREVIEW, SETS AU RECORD

The AU women's golf team shot a school-record 309 as a team and won first place at the River States Conference Fall Preview tournament. The Eagles went into the final day trailing Midway by two shots, but after another stellar effort, AU surpassed Midway and won the tournament by 18 strokes. Asbury collected a team score of 638 and Midway finished in second place with a score of 656. "I'm really proud of how all of our girls performed today," said Head Coach Matt McCurry. "They all played amazing from start to finish. We played up to our potential and we are showing great poise as a team as we continue to build on through our fall tournament season." Faith Wiley '22 surged her way from 16th to 2nd place on the leaderboard after shooting a team-best and tournament-best 72 for the afternoon. Wiley finished with a score of 157 and was only two shots behind first.

MCNARY NAMED ASSISTANT SOFTBALL COACH

Former University of Louisville standout player Jordan McNary has been named assistant softball coach at Asbury University. McNary, a 2017 Louisville graduate and two-time Atlantic Coast Conference All-Conference honoree, brings a unique combination of high-level playing experience as a Division I player, and coaching expertise as an assistant coach with the Louisville Lady Sluggers and at Ballard High School in Louisville. She also has experience in fundraising and operational budgeting for travel and recruiting. "I'm blessed to join Coach (Zack) Parsons at Asbury," said McNary. "I'm looking forward to using my knowledge from playing at the collegiate level and coaching at the elite travel ball level to compete in the River States Conference. This program has a bright future and I'm so excited to be a part of it." ■

*Why
Asbury?
Why
Now?*

How an Asbury education is putting graduates ahead of the game.

In the last issue of the “Ambassador,” we were introduced to Asbury University’s 18th President, Dr. Kevin J. Brown. He shared a bit of his vision for the future with us. Now, we’re exploring the ways that vision is going to keep future Asbury graduates a step ahead, against the backdrop of a changing marketplace and higher-education world.

We find ourselves at the crux of a critical cultural moment. And it feels as though anything could happen. At Asbury, we are heartened to use this moment as a launching pad for a new generation of students.

Why Asbury? Why now? Read on to find out.

The Skills Gap

According to a 2019 study by the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM), talent acquisition is becoming more and more difficult for HR professionals and recruiters. More than 80 percent of respondents, who work in the HR field, reported having trouble finding suitable candidates for open positions in the past year. One of the top reasons HR professionals reported was not being able to find candidates with the right soft skills.

On the flip side, the higher education market is definitely not what it was five or 10 years ago, as more incoming students are being told they must seek out trade or technical degrees, instead of liberal arts degrees, in the search for hard skills. Many others are afraid to pursue higher education at all for fear of the cost and debt load.

Enter Asbury.

Time has proven that employees need both the technical skills and the people skills to be successful in their work. In short, employers are looking for Asbury graduates.

Asbury has always been focused on offering its students a high-quality education at the best value possible. One sign of that value is a graduate’s ability to pay back any loans obtained as a student. With 98 percent of Asbury’s

“ We’re not preparing [the Surrendered Class] for 2023, we’re preparing them for 2030, 2035, 2040 and beyond.”

graduates working or pursuing advanced degrees just six months after graduation, it’s no wonder the loan default rates for Asbury graduates are lower than the average national, state and public university rates.

Numbers like these prove that a high-quality education at Asbury – in which students learn both hard and soft skills – pays off once they leave campus. It translates directly into their careers, as they go into offices, classrooms, labs and film sets around the world. Asbury students are getting both value in their classrooms and giving it in the workplace for years to come.

“We’re preparing graduates to add value, not simply to get a job but to add value in the different workspaces that they go into,” Brown said. “We’re preparing our graduates for a future that is largely unpredictable because they have the requisite skills to navigate the complexities of a very dynamic global marketplace. Those are all things that are being caught and taught within the Asbury experience, both for students to realize the best versions of themselves and to be uniquely equipped to go into this very fast, dynamic, complex world.”

The top three soft skills that applicants are lacking according to SHRM are:

- Problem solving, critical thinking, innovation and creativity
- Ability to deal with complexity and ambiguity
- Communication

As Asbury students pursue their degrees within the larger framework of interdisciplinary study, students learn to engage in questions about the human condition. It is in that questioning and academic engagement with peers and professors that soft skills are harnessed and sharpened. Small class sizes work in tandem with this liberal arts core, producing students who can communicate effectively, problem solve and engage their minds critically as well as deal with complex subject matter and the unknown.

For Brown, it is these skills that will take Asbury students above and beyond in their careers, now and in the largely unpredictable future.

“The Surrendered Class is graduating in 2023,” Brown said. “We’re not preparing them for 2023, we’re preparing them for 2030, 2035, 2040 and beyond. We’re preparing them for their seventh job, not their first.”

Small class sizes work in tandem with this liberal arts core, producing students who can communicate effectively, problem solve and engage their minds critically.

Asbury offers a spiritually active campus environment unlike any other.

“How much better to get wisdom than gold! To get understanding is to be chosen rather than silver.”

— Proverbs 16:16 (ESV)

Wisdom and Virtue

To find wisdom is to find life.

Asbury makes itself distinctive in its focus on producing well-rounded individuals. Students choose Asbury not just for stellar academics and a balanced liberal arts education, but also because Asbury fosters the embodied human spirit. In nurturing the mind, body and soul during their time on campus, students are the best for the family, the church, the professions and the world.

We learn in the Scriptures that to gain wisdom is better than acquiring gold. That’s why Asbury students are challenged from the minute they step foot on campus to seek wisdom.

“How much better to get wisdom than gold! To get understanding is to be chosen rather than silver.” — Proverbs 16:16 (ESV)

“Wisdom is not just the correct application of knowledge, but we know biblically it is the recognition and fear of the Lord and to live the way God wants us to live,” Brown said. “Wisdom, excellence in the work that we do and leaning into the best version of ourselves all help to bear witness and add value.”

Spirituality sits at the center of an Asbury education. Those who are searching for more can find growth and solace in a spiritually active campus environment.

A rich spiritual development can take place through a variety of campus activities such as communal worship in Chapel services, in studying the Scriptures during theology classes and in the residence halls through Bible studies.

It is in the amalgamation of these Asbury moments that students learn to seek wisdom for life.

The AU Value

The cost of higher education has been steadily on the rise in the United States for years, but Asbury is committed to offering a high-quality education at a price that is of great value. Time has proven just how valuable an Asbury education can be in the life of a student and we want to make that education available to students from all walks of life and income levels. That’s why 100% of incoming freshmen received financial aid in the 2019-20 academic year. But value is much more than just getting in, it’s also what you take away. Asbury shines above schools from across the country in this area as 98% of AU grads are either working or pursuing advanced degrees just six months after graduation. This is several percentage points above the national average.

Asbury: a roadmap for self- discovery

College is the place where many young souls go to find themselves. Being away from home for the first time in a young adult's life presents both its pleasures and its challenges. At Asbury, there's a safety net that allows for healthy self-discovery in an environment where students can both ask questions and explore their identities as Christ followers and individuals.

And, at Asbury, we know that self-discovery and personal growth are lifelong pursuits. Students leave equipped to continue on in their journeys, wherever they may go.

"They are uniquely equipped for today's complex, dynamic professional world; however, Asbury also provides an opportunity for self-discovery, to see who they are in light of who God created them to be and to live into that and find fulfillment, satisfaction, gratification and flourishing in that recognition and living into that picture of who they are," Brown said.

Smaller class sizes provide space for discussion, so students can feel safe to get to know their peers and professors and engage in thoughtful questions about themselves, the world and their faith.

Asbury embodies its motto, "Start Here. Impact the World," in offering opportunities to students that are truly one-of-a-kind moments of self-discovery. From mission and service opportunities to Asbury-led study abroad programming and academic experiences such as the Olympics and Police Mount Training program, Asbury students are set up well to explore themselves as both future professionals and individuals.

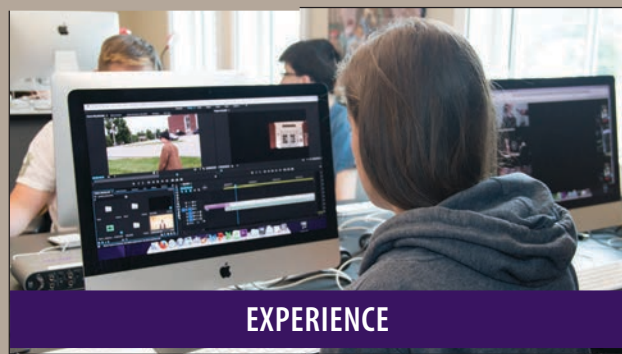

"Why us? Why now?" The answers are tested, witnessed and experienced each day on the Asbury University campus. ■

“Asbury provides an opportunity for self-discovery to see who [students] are in light of who God created them to be.”

— Dr. Kevin J. Brown

PRESIDENT'S LEADERSHIP GIVING SOCIETY

President's Leadership Giving Society (PLGS) donors believe in the power of an Asbury University education to solve problems and improve society. They know an Asbury education prepares servant-leaders who change our world for Christ one community, one challenge, one achievement and one breakthrough at a time.

Through the members of the PLGS, Asbury is able to enrich its academic programs, hire the best faculty, award scholarships, foster in students a commitment to Christ and holiness of heart and life, provide for cross-cultural experiences, renovate campus facilities, and so much more. At its core, the PLGS partners are key to funding vigorous academics and vibrant spiritual life programs.

To those listed on these pages as PLGS members over the past fiscal year, the University is deeply grateful for your support. Your giving not only impacts the lives of Asbury students, but the lives they will change as they engage with the world.

As we welcome Dr. Kevin J. Brown as the University's 18th president, it would be such an encouragement for membership in this key community of donors to reach a record high.

Please prayerfully consider joining the President's Leadership Giving Society with your gift of $1,000 or more. ■ Celebrate. Advance. Ignite.

There's been a palpable change on Asbury University's campus since we began the Ignited Campaign in 2014. You can feel it in the air as you walk across campus. We've seen the construction and revitalization of facilities, the development of new scholarships and academic programming and much more.

As we enter into the final year of the campaign with more than $70 million raised, we are celebrating, advancing and igniting. We ask that you join us as we step forward into the future of the University and this last year of our campaign. Let's finish strong.

Celebrate.

Asbury is celebrating. Over the course of the Ignited Campaign, we've seen great change in a variety of areas on campus. We've broken ground on the Collaborative Learning Center (CLC).

We've also seen upgrades in:

- Hughes Auditorium
- Art facilities
- Kresge Residence Hall
- Luce Center
- Z.T. Johnson Cafeteria
- Center for Academic Excellence

We've opened the doors to:

- Joe Pitts Center for Public Policy
- Jameson Recital Hall
- Bowdoin Athletic Practice Facility
- Dennis F. Kinlaw Study Center
- Windsor Manor

We're also celebrating the 59 endowed scholarships established or funded and the creation of 25 named, current-use scholarships. We're celebrating a 44.5% growth in diversity within the student body, the funding of internships for business, communication arts and science students and a 170% increase in professional development allotment for faculty.

We've raised;

- More than $800,000 for the Equine Program
- More than $30 million for scholarships
- $2.68 million for Outreach Initiatives
- Nearly $1 million for Asbury Athletics
- More than $10 million for The Fund for Asbury University

We've also funded two leadership positions. There's so much to celebrate right now at Asbury University, and this is only the beginning.

A revitalization of the Morrison-Kenyon Building — which is now the Student Center — is one of three major projects in the final year of Ignited.

Advance.

Asbury is advancing. As we advance in this final year of Ignited, we're focused on three major projects.

We're focusing on student scholarships. The Asbury experience is a life-changing one and we believe it should be available to students from all walks of life. Nearly 100 percent of Asbury students receive financial aid and we're committed to making sure that continues in the future. That's why we're asking you to partner with us in the investment of current use and endowed scholarship opportunities.

We're focusing on collaborative learning. The Collaborative Learning Center – which will house the Dayton School of Business, along with the School of Science, Health & Mathematics – will provide a wealth of space for faculty and students to approach issues together. The space was designed with a collaborative mentality in mind, reflective of Asbury's programs as a whole.

We're focusing on community building. With funds from the Ignited Campaign, Asbury's Student Center, which is lovingly referred to as the STUCE, will be revitalized. Due to the growth in the student body, there is a pressing need to expand the Student Center. That's why we're raising $5 million to revitalize this space, which has been part of our campus since 1927.

The revitalized Student Center will be named in honor of former Asbury president and retired Salvation Army General Paul A. Rader '54 and Commissioner Kay Fuller '57

Rader. Also at the STUCE, former Asbury faculty members Al '60 and Yvonne Cochran '58 Moulton will be honored through the creation of the Moulton Commons.

Ignite.

Asbury is ignited. We believe our students are worth the investment and we hope you do, too. Coming from diverse backgrounds, faith journeys and walks of life, our student body gathers in Wilmore, Ky. to become equipped in academic excellence and spiritual vitality to impact the world for Christ. Partner with us.

Your philanthropic investment in the next generation of Asburians may include any combination of:

- Single Gift
- Pledge (payable over five years)
- Estate Provision

Contact us at (800) 888-1818, x2104 or development@asbury.edu. You may also give or pledge online at asbury.edu/ignited/partner.

IMPACTING THE WORLD: A Family Affair

For Asbury University Media Communication major Caleb Shaffer '20, impacting the world was a family affair long before he made the decision to become an Asbury student.

Shaffer, his mother April Leggett '88 Shaffer, father and sister have built a special family tradition of traveling from their home in Atlanta, Ga., to Romania to do mission work each summer since 2013.

After fundraising to go on a trip to Guatemala with their church, the Shaffers received news that the trip was cancelled. Looking for another way to use the funds, the Shaffers joined a friend's church on a trip to Romania. Thus, began their seven-year tradition.

“We go to love on these kids and we never really expect how much love we’re going to get back.”

While in Romania, the Shaffers and members from four different U.S. churches run VBS programs for village, city and orphan children in the city of Lugoj.

His time in Romania has given Caleb a passion for advocating for marginalized people groups wherever he goes.

“We go to love on these kids and we never really expect how much love we’re going to get back,” Caleb said. “It’s opened my eyes by seeing a lot of the injustices that these kids have faced, especially racially. There is what we would call ‘gypsy’ people in Romania. But they call them the Roma people. They are very segregated in their society and there are racist attacks against them all the time.

“I went for the first time when I was in high school and seeing those injustices happen really opened my eyes to a lot of racial injustice in America which has become a sort of passion of mine – advocating for marginalized societies because I have seen it firsthand in both America and Romania.”

This summer’s trip was especially sentimental for Caleb, who notes that this will probably be the family’s last trip for the foreseeable future since his graduation approaches this May. Now, he’s focused on finishing out his senior year at Asbury and looking ahead to what’s next.

So What’s next for Caleb Shaffer?

He dreams of landing a job in television production, working for a late-night show. Wherever he ends up, he’s looking forward to using the skills he gained at Asbury — and on mission trips — to be a light. ■

Young alumni who attended Asbury during Dr. Sandra C. Gray's presidency — classes of 2008-18 — led an effort in the Spring to honor Dr. Gray before her retirement. An anonymous alum challenged these classes to make a gift in the amount of their favorite beverage, like a cup of coffee.

The response was tremendous as young alumni made gifts ranging from $1 to $400. Giving percentage in these classes soared from 4.5% in fiscal year 2018 to 12.5% in fiscal year 2019.

Because of the outpouring of generosity, our general student scholarship fund received an additional $12,500 from the challenge donor.

Thank you, young alumni, for honoring Dr. Gray and your Asbury experience!

A 'Big God' Walks Beside Us

What a joy to be able to go around the country and introduce our new president, Dr. Kevin J. Brown, to alumni and friends and to give updates on all the ways God is blessing and moving in this little school called Asbury. It is a place that has such a global impact. Kingdom work is being done here in Wilmore and Kingdom work is being done by our alums all over the world.

Dr. Brown has been speaking about the challenges of Christian Higher Education facing us. These are real concerns and not small ones. Dr. Brown has expressed his confidence in a big God who walks beside us in this compelling vision and mission. He always gets a head nod and an amen from Troyer on these trips!

I'm so privileged to get to be a part of an Asbury team that is focused on living out our important mission and preparing students for an unpredictable world. I'm so overwhelmed by the number of alums and friends who are choosing to partner and encourage us in that mission.

This President's Report issue of the "Ambassador" is a little more "jam-packed" than last year, with almost 800 more donors giving during the last fiscal year than we reported in the previous fiscal year. Wow! But that's not all.

We are celebrating crossing the $70-million mark in the Ignited capital campaign; we are celebrating a higher young-alumni giving percentage; we are celebrating a higher-overall alumni giving percentage; and we are celebrating more than $11 million received this past year.

Last month, I was so blessed to be able to talk with Colorado alums — ranging in age from 24 to 94 — at a great event in the shadow of God's creation of the Rocky Mountains. I heard stories of lives changed, lives changing and lives dedicated to serving others. Sacrificial living, sacrificial giving and sacrificial praying were all represented in that room! This is a picture that is repeated all over the country (except the Rocky Mountain part!).

Thank you to so many who are stepping into the important work of praying, of encouraging and of giving to our students. Please pray with us as we strive to complete our goals, to help students afford a great education, and to build facilities and programs that honor God's provision and purpose for us.

Thank you so much. ■

Mark Troyer
Vice President for Institutional
Advancement & Strategic Partnerships

Giving through your IRA Double the Benefits!

- Pay no income tax on your gift
- Build your charitable legacy
- Use your IRA in the way you want

By taking a distribution from your IRA this year, you will likely pay more in taxes and may even reach a higher tax bracket. If you are 70½ or older, rolling over part of your IRA's required minimum distribution to Asbury University can help reduce your tax bill while investing in our educational ministry.

Please contact Rev. Stu Smith '77, Senior Planned Giving Officer, at stuart.smith@asbury.edu or (800) 888-1818, x2350 for more information.

Who Benefits the Most from Monthly Giving?

- You! • For many, giving monthly usually results in increased giving during the year – and it happens automatically. (Example: Write a one-time check for $100 or give $10 a month for $120 in total annual giving!)
- Asbury! • Monthly gifts are a source of revenue that we can count on while reducing our fundraising costs.
- Students! • Your smaller monthly gifts will make a major annual impact, helping our students have the best possible education and spiritual experience at Asbury.
- It's Simple! • Your credit card or saving/checking account will be charged according to your instructions.

READY? It's EASY... just go to asbury.edu/givemonthly to print out the enrollment form.
 You can also call us at (800) 888-1818, x2136 or e-mail development@asbury.edu.

Kickin' It with Lex Sports Outreach

Recent AU graduate brings unique soccer ministry to the greater Lexington area.

Austin Baker '19 may have just entered the "real world," but he's been making a "real impact" through his ministry called Lex Sports Outreach since he was a freshman at Asbury University in 2015.

The soccer ministry reaches kids in underserved areas of Lexington, Ky. This all began when Baker and friends he met on the Asbury men's soccer team joined forces to serve at Coolavin Park, a poverty-stricken neighborhood in Lexington.

"It was really tough the first year because I didn't really know how to lead and none of us really knew what we were doing and why we were there," Baker said. "We just knew that God placed it on our heart."

But God planted the seed of Lex Sports Outreach in Baker's heart years before it came to fruition. At 15, Baker walked through the hardest season of his life after the death of his mother and spent some time in counseling where he ultimately found his calling.

"Once I was there, she started asking me questions to figure out what I was passionate about," Baker said. "When I went on a mission trip to Atlanta, there was a kid who found Jesus through soccer. It really just blew me away that someone could come to know God through playing sports. When I told my counselor that, she said, 'That's the happiest point in your life and you should continue to use it because you'll be joyful.'"

Baker began participating in soccer ministries in his hometown of Franklin, Tenn., and continued until he left for college.

"It really just blew me away that someone could come to know God through playing sports."

Now, Baker leads the ministry alongside friends Fionn McCartan '21, Noah Welch '20 and Joseph Harper '21.

According to Baker, each of them brings something unique to the ministry, and Baker credits Asbury's Howard and Beverly Dayton School of Business for teaching him the networking and marketing skills he uses as the ministry's founder.

"The whole department has been super awesome in helping and supporting us," said Baker, who majored in Sport Management. "They've been really fun to work with. I'll tell them what we're doing, and they're always so interested to hear about it. That means a lot."

In the fall of 2018, McCartan and Harper entered Lex Sports Outreach in the Asbury Marketplace Summit, an annual business-plan competition hosted by the University and Asbury Theological Seminary. Much to their collective delight, the group took home the first-prize award and later used the funds to purchase clothing and toys for the kids for Christmas.

"We called it Christmas on 6th Street," Baker said. "It was amazing to see the kids open their presents and be so happy with whatever they got."

What's next for Lex Sports Outreach?

"I envision all of the different parishes and pockets of poverty in the city having a team and starting a league for all the kids," Baker said. ■

AN ICU FOR THE SOUL

Melissa Brown '15 shares how a life-changing diagnosis led her to Asbury University.

When Melissa Brown '15 first arrived on Asbury University's campus, her soul was weary.

In the years following her high school graduation in 2002, Brown watched the world as she knew it change. Her parents went through a divorce at the same time that she became diagnosed with a neurological autoimmune disease and lost several jobs due to her health condition. In the midst of those events, Brown attended college part time, but had to drop out due to health and financial complications.

A turning point came for Brown in 2011 when she felt the Lord telling her to apply for college again.

"That was kind of my moment where I really surrendered to God because I just did not know what to do," Brown said. "I didn't have an income. Because they didn't really know what was going on, I didn't have a diagnosis to apply for disability income. I just didn't see a way out of my situation."

Brown came to visit Asbury and, after receiving scholarships from the University and the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, her college education became a reality.

Asbury was a spiritual healing ground of sorts for Brown, a place where she could come not only to complete two degrees (a bachelors and masters in social work), but also a place to contend with the battles she'd fought since entering adulthood in the early 2000s.

"Dr. (Gay) Holcomb once told me that she felt Asbury was an ICU for the soul for a lot of students," Brown said. "For me, that was exactly what it was. I knew I needed physical healing, but I didn't really realize how much everything I had been through in my life really affected my spiritual well-being. While I was at Asbury, I experienced God in such a new way. It was the first time I was really away from home. I was away from all of the things that used to influence me, good or bad. It was just me and God. It was just me and God facing my illness. It was me and God facing past issues I carried with me."

For all of the seasons of pain that Brown has walked through over the years, she's gleaned invaluable wisdom that she often passes on in her current position as a case manager at Centerstone in Louisville, Ky., where she works with individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities. What would Brown say to those walking a similar journey as the scared 18-year-old girl she once was in 2002?

"Life's not over," Brown said. "It's definitely different and hard at times. The most important thing is to give yourself grace to grieve. You're definitely going to be frustrated. You're going to have moments where you miss the way things were, but there are still things to embrace and life to live."

“Not only did I get my bachelor’s degree in social work at Asbury, but I went on and got my masters. That was not on my radar at all. Those are all opportunities God has blessed me with out of the suffering.”

Brown also notes the many opportunities that came along her journey.

“There are so many opportunities that I’m not sure I would’ve had otherwise,” Brown said. “I count Asbury in with that because had I not gotten sick, I don’t know that I would’ve pursued my degree. Not only did I get my bachelor’s degree in social work at Asbury, but I went on and got my masters. That was not on my radar at all. Those are all opportunities God has blessed me with out of the suffering.”

Today, Brown uses a wheelchair for longer distances but can walk without assistance at home and relies on forearm crutches for short distances.

Now, when she’s not at work, you can find Brown at Kentucky’s first curling club, Derby City Curling Club. Brown serves on the club’s board and is in the process of creating a wheelchair curling team for the club.

And, she still keeps in touch with Asbury professors. Most notably, during a semester she was in and out of the hospital, Professor Kim Lowry made extra efforts to keep Brown up to speed with her lessons.

“She saw my fight to keep going in the semester,” Brown said. “That really impacted me. She went from being a mentor to being a lifelong friend. I’d say that about all my professors, though. I know they’re still just a phone call or e-mail away.” ■

Small Business: BIG IMPACT. Two Asbury alums making an impact by following their calling.

A Legit Tech Success: Zach Whelchel '13

Zach Whelchel '13 was still attending classes at Asbury University when his company Legit Apps began taking off. Today, he serves as the CEO of the Lexington-based startup that builds apps for companies in many industries.

Whelchel (far left in long pants in the photo above) grew up in Wilmore attending the Ichthus Festival and decided to make an app for concert goers. The rest is history.

Following his graduation, Whelchel spent time teaching development classes overseas and working briefly with Google. He also married his Asbury sweetheart, Sharayah Jung '13 Whelchel, a physical therapist who recently joined Asbury's Alumni Board, and the pair relocated to Lexington.

"Part of the vision of Legit Apps is that we're supporting smaller communities," Whelchel said. "Instead of building Instagram or Facebook where the 'community' is the whole world, we're building apps for schools, colleges and events. I think doing that work is pretty rewarding."

Whelchel also created Verses, an app that helps people memorize scripture through memory games. He credits his time at Asbury for helping him become a good leader.

"Because Asbury is a smaller, close-knit school, I got to do things I wouldn't have been able to elsewhere," said Whelchel, a Media Communication graduate. "Those leadership roles prepared me for what I'm doing now."

Delighting in the Lord: Sarah Long '99 Fennell

Teacher turned stay-at-home mom, Sarah Long '99 Fennell wasn't looking to go into the home goods industry, but a side hustle slowly morphed into a family business over the course of six years.

"I remember painting a piece of furniture in my garage while waiting to hear back about a teaching opportunity," Fennell said. "I was so in love with painting I remember thinking, 'If I could paint furniture for the rest of my life, I would be so happy.' I turned down the teaching job so I could pursue the path God was quietly calling me to."

Fennell began selling her creations at the local merchant mall and then expanded into lighting and home décor. Her setup found enough success that Fennell decided it was time to open her own store. In 2017, Fennell and her husband (Mike) opened Interior Delights in Parker, Colo., drawing the name from Psalm 37:4 — "Delight yourself in the Lord and He will give you the desires of your heart."

Through the journey, Fennell has drawn upon lessons she learned from her grandfather, Stanley Tam, who legally gave his business to the Lord.

"Having a business isn't about me," Fennell said. "It's about the Lord and following Him and being obedient to God with my talents. Just being generous in knowing that what we get from our business is not of our own doing but it's of the Lord's."

"Maybe one of the biggest joys is just all of the people that I've met along the way... and to see that God really does have a plan for my life."

The Benefits of Year-End Giving

As you consider investing in the educational experience and spiritual development of our students, there are charitable strategies (in addition to gifts of cash) worth considering where you can enjoy tax and income benefits.

Appreciated Assets

Gifts of appreciated securities generate an immediate tax deduction, and capital gains and net investment income taxes can be avoided.

Charitable Gift Annuity

This life income gift provides fixed payments for life and an income tax deduction this year.
